Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Stories by American Authors I was aroused from my reflections by hearing some one ahead of me calling, Heah! - heah - whoo-oo, heah! Turning the curve in the road, I saw just before me a negro standing, with a hoe and a watering-pot in his hand. He had evidently just gotten over the worm-fence into the road, out of the path which led zigzag across the old field and was lost to sight in the dense growth of sassafras. When I rode up, he was looking anxiously back down this path for his dog. So engrossed was he that he did not even hear my horse, and I reined in to wait until he should turn around and satisfy my curiosity as to the handsome old place half a mile off from the road. The numerous out-buildings and the large barns and stables told that it had once been the seat of wealth, and the wild waste of sassafras that covered the broad fields gave it an air of desolation that greatly excited my interest. Entirely oblivious of my proximity, the negro went on calling, Whoooooop, heah! until along the path, walking very slowly and with great dignity, appeared a noble-looking old orange and white setter, gray with age, and corpulent with excessive feeding. As soon as he came in sight, his master began: Yes, dat you! You gittin deaf as well as bline, I s pose! Kyarnt heah me callin , I reckon? Whyn t yo come on, dawg?
