Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from For Our Boys: A Collection of Original Literary Offerings; By Popular Writers at Home and Abroad Leading publicists and other writers on modern socialism, recognize the proposition that in all civilized countries the honest, helpless poor are entitled to government aid. But the right of the individual to assistance by the state, involves a correlation of society, which is organized chiefly for the security of its members in their life and property, and for their mutual protection. Therefore, society is not merely an economical fact, a kind of savings and loan association; it is also a moral fact, a grand fabric of solidarity and brotherhood, resting on a basis of equity and reciprocal obligations. Some wealmen, however, maintain that the commonwealth owes nothing to its disabled or destitute members. Such a doctrine is neither humane nor logical in its conclusions. A condition in which the individual should never have any benefit to expect from the collective store or reserve of the community, and should himself have to provide, under all circumstances of adversity, for the...
